

1-2 What is the final return?

The income tax in Japan adopts procedures to calculate by the taxpayers themselves the amount of taxable income and income tax etc. on the income in accordance with their own type of residential status (see 1-3), file a final return by the due date of the following year, and settle the excess or deficiency with the amount of tax withheld or estimated tax prepayment, regarding the income earned during the year from January 1 to December 31 of that year. This procedure is called a final return.

- Income tax in Japan adopts the self-assessment system. The self-assessment system is a system under which the tax amount is primarily determined through the filing of a tax return by each taxpayer. Under this system, taxpayers, who best know the state of their own income, calculate the amount of taxable income and the tax on the income by themselves and file proper returns on their own responsibilities.
- Income tax in Japan adopts the withholding tax system for specific incomes along with the self-assessment system. Under the withholding tax system, the payers of salaries and wages, retirement allowance, interest, dividends, and fees etc. withhold the certain amounts of income tax etc. at the time of payment and pay them to the national treasury.
- You are advised that “Special Income Tax for Reconstruction” is added to the income tax for each year from 2013 through 2037. This tax is 2.1% tax on the amount of your income tax to help finance various measures of reconstructions from the aftermath of 2011 Tohoku earthquake and tsunami, which is also referred to as the Great East Japan Earthquake. In this guide, income tax and special income tax for reconstruction are referred to as income tax etc.

1-3 Taxpayers and the scope of taxable income

Any individual is subject to tax liability of income tax etc. in accordance with the following residential categories.

1. Classification for residential status

1) Residents

Any individual who has a “JUSHO (domicile)” or owns a “KYOSHO (residence)” continuously for one year or more is classified as a resident.

Among residents, any individual of non Japanese nationality who has had a domicile or a residence in Japan for an aggregate period of five years or less within the preceding ten years is classified as a non-permanent resident.

2) Non-residents

Any individual other than the residents mentioned in “1) Residents” above is classified as a non-resident.

Note

If a person who owns a residence in Japan leaves Japan with the intent to be absent temporarily and later reenter Japan, the person shall be treated as having been residing in Japan during the period of absence.

The intention to be absent temporarily will be presumed if, during the period of absence, (a) the person's spouse or relatives remain in the household in Japan, (b) the person retains a residence or a room in a hotel for residential use after returning to Japan, or (c) the person's personal property for daily use is kept in Japan for use upon return to Japan.

(Reference 1) Classification of taxpayers

- In cases where an individual has not owned his or her domicile during the period from the date of entry into this country to the date on which one year has elapsed.
 - The individual mentioned above is deemed “a non-resident” until the date on which one year has elapsed from the date of entry into this country and “a resident” after the date following that on which one year has elapsed.
- In cases where an individual did not own his or her domicile in this country immediately after entry into this country, but has owned his or her domicile during the period from the date of entry into this country to that on which one year has elapsed.
 - The individual mentioned above is deemed “a non-resident” until the date before that on which he or she owned his or her domicile and “a resident” after the date on which he or she owned his or her domicile.
- In cases where an individual is a resident of non Japanese nationality and the period during which he or she has owned his or her domicile or residence in this country exceeds five years or more within the last ten years.

(Reference 2) Judgment (presumption) of the presence of a domicile

Fact	Judgment	Remarks
An individual's base of living is in Japan.	Judged as having a domicile	Whether the base of living is in Japan is judged by the presence of objective facts, for example, an individual has an occupation in Japan, an individual lives together with his/her spouse or any other relatives, or an individual owns a place of business.
An individual has an occupation which normally requires living in Japan continuously for one year or more.	Presumed as having a domicile	An individual who came to live in Japan in order to operate a business or engage in an occupation in Japan falls under this division (except for the case where it is clear that the period for staying in Japan is previously arranged to be less than one year by a contract, etc.)
There are facts by which it can sufficiently be presumed that an individual has been living continuously for more than one year in Japan whether such individual has the Japanese nationality and has relatives who live together with such individual, or such individual has its occupation and assets in Japan.	Presumed as having a domicile	-

Note: Any individual who came to live in Japan to learn science and practical arts is treated as having an occupation in Japan for the period of living for learning in Japan.

2. Scope of taxable income

1) Residents other than non-permanent residents

Residents other than non-permanent residents are obligated to pay the income tax etc. for their whole income.

2) Non-permanent residents

Non-permanent residents are obliged to pay income tax etc. with respect to their (a) income other than foreign source income, (b) foreign source income paid in Japan and (c) foreign source income paid abroad and remitted to Japan from abroad.

The amount "remitted to Japan from abroad" means, among the amount remitted and received by non-permanent residents from abroad to Japan in each year, "the amount exceeding the amount of the income other than foreign source income paid abroad" in that year.

【Example】

Income other than Foreign Source Income (750)		Foreign Source Income (250)
A Paid in Japan	B Paid Abroad	C Paid in Japan	D Paid Abroad
500	250	150	100

In the case that a non-permanent resident remits and receives 260 from abroad to Japan, among the amount of 350 (B+D) paid abroad, 250 (B) portion is first deemed to be the remittance of the income other than foreign source income paid abroad, and then the remaining 10 is deemed to be the remittance of the foreign source income paid abroad (D), which will be taxed accordingly.

3) Non-residents

Non-residents are obligated to pay the income tax etc. for their domestic source income.
