

Header information form including tax office details, company name, and business type.

Summary section for tax filing, including dates and application status.

Main calculation table with columns for tax amounts and rows for various tax items like income tax, local tax, and deductions.

Footer section for the tax authority name and stamp.